By BRYAN MORSE. Gonzaga High School football players are out with a sweeping challenge today. A decisive defeat the Georgtown Prep eleven which annexed the Jesuit Prep School title recently led Gonzaga to ask for games with other high schools in the city. Gonzaga wants to meet Tech, the high school champion, or Army and Navy Prep or St. Albans for either the high school or prep school championship.

Tech is not to be allowed to rest on its laurels as high school title-holder. With Gonzaga clamoring SUPPORT TO TOURNEY for a game, Carl Mueller, coach of the Virginia A. C. eleven, of Alexandria, comes forward with a statement that his team will meet Tech. Enterprising Richmond football enthusiasts want Tech to come there for a battle against the picked allhigh eleven of Richmond.

From Worcester, Mass, comes a cry from Tad Donnelly, former Georgetown end and coach of the Worcester Trades School. Donnelly wants Tech to come end and coach of the Worcester Trades School. Donnelly wants Tech to come there for a game or would like to come ture for a battle. In a letter Donnelly

Tech's big honor will be celebrated Tech's big honor will be celebrated next Tuesday night at the school, when the Princeton Cup will be admired and the championship talked about. On Saturday night of this week Central's team will be honored with the annual football supper. Western's team will be given a dance on November 24, while plans are under way for an entertainment at Business.

The St. Albans-Army and Navy Prephattie, scheduled for Saturday morning, will determine the prep school title of the city unless Gonzaga High School is met. St. Albans possesses a fine record, as does the Army and Navy Preps. The A. N. P. team eliminated Georgetown Prep and Saturday's game will go far toward determining the title.

Tech's 13-to-0 victor, over Eastern in the battle which landed the Manual Trainers the title and permanent possession of the Princeton 'up was not particularly impressive. Tech failed to show much dash at any time of the game. None of the players extended themselves to the limit, appearing contented enough to win.

Eastern's fighting qualities were shown early in the game, and the Capitol Hill youngsters, greatly outweighed in every position, foucht with nover a jet-up during the entire forty minutes of play.

The first touchdown recorded for Tech was the result of a gift. Governs passed poorly on two occasions up the first quarter, and of the second attempt the ball want to Tech on the t-yard line, from where Snyder went over for the first touchdown. This was the only second of the first half. In the oreging of the second half Tech's backs got in some good work in inserteronce and swept seventy yards down the field for rushes of from six to lifteen yards. Dafley went across left tackle for the second touchdown, but missed goal.

Jake Roberts was forced out of the game early on account of an injury to his leg, and Tech failed to reapond to Taylor's direction. Later Taylor Central-Western games have been closely fought out, and this year's engagement, scheduled for Friday, appears to be a matter of speculation as to the winner. Neither eleven is claiming a win, and unless all signs fail the forty minutes of battling is going to be well worth watching. The championship is decided, but both Central and Western have old scores to settle.

Members of the present Western team have never been dieard by Central. Two years ago Western came back for a 3 to 0 win over Central from a 61 to 0 defeat of the year before, and last year the elevens fought out a scoreless tie.

divided, support was picaged.

Baltimore has been unfortunate in possessing two factions in its bowling activities, the tenpin and duckpin men having cudgled some differences for the pest few months. This has been adjusted now, however, and Baltimore is to be a stanch supporter of organized bowling under the A. C. D. A. rules from this out.

A complete staff of officers was named before last night's session was concluded, and beginning today the bowlers from the neighboring city are working hand and hand with Washington to effect a successful tournament here next spring. Baltimore's officers are:

Gives Dartmouth Team Shake-up for Big Clash

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 17 -- Coach

Cavanaugh ordered a half-hour scrim-mage yesterday for the Dartmouth football squad, in which the first team carried the ball all the time. They were carried the ball all the time. They were able to make two touchdowns. The ball was then placed on the scrubar 15-yard line and each time in four successive downs put the ball over the line. Several changes were made in the line-up. Dussosoit, at left end, exchanged places at quarterback with Worthington, and they both filled their new places advantaxeously. Gerrish, Theilscher, and Duhamel so far outplayed their teammates in Saturday's contest that they are sure of their places for the rest of the season. Pudrith is back at right end, supplanting Emery, and he probably will start in the Syracuse game on account of his weight.

TODAY'S SPORTORIAL BOBBY WILLIAMS IS

Unless all this talk of "fight to the death" is bunk, the Federal League will open the 1916 season with three Western clubs and five Eastern clubs, a situation not existing in either of its competitors. To be sure, the Buffalo franchise may yet be switched to Cincinnati, Detroit, Driscoll Records Best Time in or Cleveland, all one-league cities, but Jim Gilmore insists that Buffalo Trials Held At Brookland will start in the Federal League circuit next spring. When you consider the circuit presided over by Gilmore, you must admit its weakness. Invading New York means that the Federal League will have three cities already provided with American and National League clubs, Chicago and St. Louis joining with the metropolis in this manner. It is needless to say that the competition in those three cities will be all the stronger. But the principal weakness of the league is that it possesses too many minor league cities. Buffalo, Baltimore, and Newark have been failures even in minor organizations. How, then, can the independents expect to make money in a lop-sided circuit with a trio of three-league towns and three minor league towns? This is something about which Gilmore says nothing in capital letters. But it is some thing about which the league magnates should think seriously. Furthermore, transferring the Kansas City franchise to New York cuts out a Sunday baseball town from the circuit. In the West Sunday baseball is a money-making feature of the great business of providing entertainment for the American people and the Feds can hardly cut off any source of making money. Unless the Brookfeds are allowed to play Sunday ball in 1916, another leak at the gate will be found in the circuit.

The Federal League circuit new consists of New York, Brooklyn, Newark Buffalo and Baltimore in the East, with Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh In the West. Sunday baseball does not obtain in Pittsburgh, leaving the "third major" with but two Sunday towns, opposing four in the American and three in the National leagues, With competition of two leagues in St. Louis and Chicago, the Feds' hopes can hardly be of the highest. In the National League it is possible for a team to make an overnight jump from Pittsburgh for Sunday games, while from Philadelphia and Washington it is easy to jump in a night to Cleveland or Detroit for Sunday games, thus taking advantage of off Sundays in the East. This has been found valuable in the past for both big leagues and the Feds are certain to miss it. Until the Federal League has a well-rounded circuit, it can make but little impress upon the majors. It certainly lacks that line-up now. in the West. Sunday baseball does not obtain in Pittsburgh, leaving the upon the majors. It certainly lacks that line-up now.

They are talking of contenders for the heavyweight ring title, but to the man on the outside the outlook is far from good. The most prominent white heavyweight boxers are Jess Willard, who holds the title: Jack Dillog, Battling Levinsky, Jim Coffey, Frank Moran, Fred Fulton, Gunboat Smith, Charile Weinert, and Tom Cowler. As Willard has drawn the color line, it is unnecessary to name the colored heavyweights, Sam McVey and Bam Langford. Frank Moran, owing to his draw with Jack Johnson and his quick kayo victory over Jim Coffey, is generally considered the most likely. Moran, however, is no spring chicken, and has never been much of a fancy boxer. Furthermore, Willard would have four inches advantage in reach over him. Coffey's glass jaw kills his chances, while Jack Dillon weighs but 175 pounds. Gunboat Smith is fast slowing up, losing to Weinert last summer. Dillon has twice stopped Weinert without trouble. Fred Putton, the Minnesota giant, has done nothing better than to put Arthur Pelky to sleep, and about every heavyweight in the country has done that. Tom Cowler, Jim Corbett's protege, is too green to be worthy of serious consideration. Not one of these boxers is within twenty pounds of Jess Willard in weight, and he outreaches them from four to seven inches. He has a whole head in height on Moran, and more than that on Dillon, On dope not a possible contender in the land has a real chance to defeat Willard right now.

Frank Baker says he will not play in New York, but intimates that he might be willing to play in Chicago, if he decides to return to the big show. As a matter of fact, it is probable that Charlie Comiskey will balk on the price Connie Mack asks for the former slugging third baseman. Comiskey has paid lots of money for star players during the past season and, with the exception of Eddie Collins, they have all falled to answer requirements. Before opening his purse again, Comiskey is probably going to consider long and seriously. Baker is no youngster and cannot have many more years of baseball left in him. It is this phase of the situation that interests Clark Griffith, who believes that Connie Mack's price is all out of proportion. The Old Fox also suggests that Baker might quit after a year of playing, thus failing to give a due return for the fancy price paid for him. So maybe Baker will do the worrying rather than Donovan or Rowland.
